Funeral Services Sunday For John Hyde

Funeral services for John Hyde whose death was reported last week, were held in the First Ward Chapel Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. with Bishop J. Orvin Hicken in charge and the music furnished by the First Ward Choir.

Hymns by the choir were: "On My Father," "Sometime We'll Understand" and "Nearer My God to Thee." The opening prayer was by Elder Emil Weed, the benediction by Elder Brooch Lybbert of Glenwood, and the grave was dedicated by Elder O. E. Allred.

Speakers were Elders J. H. Walker and W. M. Wilde both of whom had known deceased for many years and spoke of his dependability and the kindness of spirit that always characterized his manner. Wm. Wilde had worked with deceased years ago as assistant in the Blacksmith shop in his younger years. Both spoke on the resurrection and life after death and stated that because of the faith of deceased and his wife, and for their obedience to the laws of the Gospel they would again have the privilege of reuniting and enjoying each other's companionship and that if the children obeyed these laws, the family would be reunited in the life beyond the grave.

Bishop Hicken spoke briefly in praise of the life of deceased and thanked all on behalf of the family for their thoughtfulness and kind acts during the bereavement.

All of the children were present except John, who is overseas with the forces and one girl. Four sons and three girls are left to mourn the passing of their father. Floral offerings were beautiful and profuse and a large cortege followed the remains to the cemetery, where interment was made with Christensen Bros. in charge.

NEWS NOTES

Every land owner should read the Experimental Farm letter in this issue. It is VERY important.

Parley Junior Meldrum is a recent enlistment from here in the Canadian Army and has gone into training in Calgary.

Work on the land started Tuesday afternoon after the fine soaking rain. It was a little sticky and machinery had to go around the low places, but things are really being pushed now.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Christensen returned home from Arizona Tuesday evening after being away for a month. Ex. says he is feeling much better and thinks that with a continuation of treatment he will be entirely over his trouble in a little while.

Liberal Working Plan for Full Post-War Employment...

For Veterans—$750,000,000 to get them started in good paying jobs in industry, on the land or in business for themselves as each of them chooses.

Housing—$400,000,000
to finance the biggest building scheme this country has ever known.

Family Allowances—$250,000,000 a year to lessen the burdens of parenthood and to equalize the opportunities of young Canadians for success and happiness.

Export Credits—We've got to have exports if we're going to have jobs.
Your Liberal Government has arranged to finance war-wrecked
countries who will be good customers later.

Industrial Development Bank—Your Liberal Government has set up machinery to help enterprising Canadians develop new business.

Farm Loans—One man in every three in Canada works on the farm. To help them get better equipment, your Liberal Government has arranged that they can borrow the money they need for better working and living conditions.

Floor Prices—The Liberal Government's policy is that when farmers and fishermen prosper, so do other Canadians. It has therefore taken action to put a floor under the price of farm and fishery products.

Reduction of Taxes—Your Liberal Government believes in jobs first. To this end, taxes will come down to free spending power.

These are just some of many steps in the Liberal Government's Working Plan to ensure full employment after the war. In addition it has stimulated tremendous private savings in Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates; put through Unemployment Insurance; set up a special Department of Reconstruction staffed by experts. In fact all its policies are directed to the same end—a "high and stable level of employment and income."

"small business" ISN'T SO SMALL!

Ordinarily one Canadian in every six gainfully employed, earns his livelihood in a "small business." It may be a farm, a store or a lumber-yard; an architect's office or a service station. Taken together, these individual enterprises provide a very substantial part of Canada's total jobs—must continue to do so after the war.

During the years ahead many people who dropped small business for war reasons will want to return to their accustomed or new ways of making a living. Thus old businesses will be revived. Many new ones will be started by returned men and people now in war industries. The commercial banks will do their part to afford assurance that no sound credit requirement need be left unserved in the field of small business.

As such businesses grow, they create additional job openings; that has been the pattern of Canadian enterprises. Most large companies began in a small way. And practically all could name some bank which played a part in their growth by providing the loans they needed to finance their day-to-day operations.

Your bank stands ready to serve businesses, small or large, well established or just starting out. Banks do not initiate such businesses—but they do furnish necessary working capital and many other forms of banking service.

No fewer than 94 out of every hundred establishments in the manufacturing, wholesale, retail and services fields are small, employing less than 15 people. Together they employ 37% of all the workers engaged in these classes of business.

Real Social Security or Rationed Scarcity?

To the political and economic reactionary, Social Security is something to be used as a bribe to win votes—a sop to soothe unrest. Social makeshifts of that kind are actually offered to-day as political substitutes for sound, economic planning for the post-war reconstruction of Canada.

To the State Socialist, on the other hand, Social Security is a bookish theory seeking to prove that poverty would be much more endurable if only it were much more general.

And now, listen for a moment to John Bracken, the forthright leader of the Progressive Conservative Party:—"The State here in Canada, unlike in Germany, is the servant of the people, not its master. Finance, and economic mechanisms associated with it, must likewise be regarded as the servants, not the masters, of our economy. The underwriting of prosperity AND social security is a proper function of the State."

Notice how closely prosperity and social security are linked together.

We are determined that Social Security shall no longer be regarded as a charity but as what it is—a social obligation and national responsibility of the very first magnitude and importance. Social Security must grow with prosperity—because the degree to which social services may be provided is determined by the size of the national income. We are pledged to maintain that income at a high prosperous level. It is against this background of plenty for all, that the Progressive Conservatives see Social Security.

The Progressive Conservative Party is pledged to provide, without delay, a uniform and comprehensive social security programme for all Canadians, including:

- ✓Extended unemployment insurance coverage.
- ✓Adequate payments for the maintenance of unemployables.
- ✓Accident and sickness benefits.
- ✓Children's allowances.
- ✓Maternity benefits.
- ✓Widows' benefits.
- ✓Retirement pensions.
- ✓Increased old age pensions at age 65.
- ✓Increased pensions for the blind.

Where any of these social services are administered provincially, we shall provide grants large enough to ensure adequate standards of social security for all Canadians.

Compare this positive and complete programme with the make-shift expedients of other parties. No other party can equal or even approach John Bracken's guarantee of security for all Canadians.

It's rational security—NOT rationed scarcity.

Philip Baker

Progressive Conservative Candidate

LETHBRIDGE

The Bracken standard-bearer in Lethbridge, Alberta, is Philip Baker, president of the Alberta Sugar Beet Growers and of the Canadian Sugar Beet Producers' Association.

This farmer candidate is a native of Pine Valley, Utah, where he was born June 21, 1884. His father, Thomas Baker, was a Lancashire Englishman and his mother, Martha Larson, a Norwegian.

Following attendance at public schools in Wayne County and high school at Ephraim, Utah, Phil Baker went to the State Agricultural College at Logan where he took the forestry course. Passing his forestry examination, he was employed for 11 years as a United States Forest Ranger on Boulder Mountain in Powell National Park, Utah. During that time he had the longest unbroken record of service as he never took a day sick or annual leave.

On coming to Canada he settled at Leth. with his sons, farms 1,688 acres. They feed around 600 head of cattle and raises from 400 to 600 hogs yearly. Last year Baker grew enough sugar beets to make 4,651 100-lb. bags of sugar.

As an example of the variety of food he produces on his farm, last year he gave a dinner at his home to a group of 15 government officials who were exploring the possibilities of water storage and water development. Everything on the table at that dinner except the salt and pepper was grown on the place. My wife's really a cook," he adds.

Livestock is Baker's hobby. He is a lover of horses and cattle. He says: "Perhaps instead of being a farmer I should have been a rancher." Before forest ranging, he rode on some of the roughest cattle ranges in North America. His son, Claude, 17, competing at Raymond, Alberta, won the championship for bareback riding against world competitors.

He is the district governor of Lions International Montana-Alberta 37D. He is a member of the board of directors of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, a member of the Travellers Organization and of the Chinook club.

Another Brackenfite, Baker has never been a Conservative but he has voted Liberal. He has never taken any part in politics in Canada because he has never had the time. When he was 26 he was chairman of the Democratic Party in Wayne County, Utah, one of the youngest to ever hold that office.

He was the first chairman of the Consolidated School Unit in Wayne County and held this position until he came to Canada. He was also county assessor.

A lover of the out-of-doors, Baker enjoys fishing and hunting.

In 1911 he married Mary Maud Stringham an American, who died in 1920. The present Mrs. Baker is the former Lotta Matilda Stevens. There are ten Baker children: Roscoe, Bryan and Claude, on the farm; Donald, Billie and Wayne, attending school; Kenneth, in the navy; Myrtle in Salt Lake City; Hazel married to Lloyd Kiely of the R.C.A.F., at home; and LuPreal, married to Alden McNeeley, and living at Raymond.
